New decentralized token CRYPTON with burning function

The Crypton Network ecosystem with the launch of the airdrop is gathering an army of fans to launch its own exchange in the future with the aim of accelerating the internal burning of tokens.

Our goal is to make our token scarce. After the airdrop, the listing price of the token will be set at $0.005, but after the launch of the exchange, we will accelerate the internal burning of Crypton tokens, the price may rise to $5 or $10, and we will be able to compete. And trade on other exchanges.

By participating in the free distribution, you will become the holders of a rare token that can change your financial position in the future.

Questions and answers

In this section, you will find answers to the most common questions.

Technical support does not always have time to answer all questions, but you can read the answers to the most common questions in this section.

Decentralized exchange

- How your exchange will affect the growth of the Crypton Network token?

After the launch of our own exchange, we will actively add other tokens to circulation, and in each transaction, our Crypton token will be used as a commission. In every transaction, the token will be burned, making it scarce.

- If I have my own token project, how can I add my token to your exchange?

After the launch of the exchange, a listing section will appear on the site, where everyone can apply for a listing for free.

- How much interest the exchange takes for each token transaction.

For each transaction, the token will be 0.01% of the transaction, additionally burning the Crypton token instead of the commission.

Global issues

- When will the Crypton Network token appear on exchanges?

Crypton Network token listing is scheduled for June 12, 2022 at 18:00, but may be earlier if the token pre-sale ends. If there are changes, we will inform you about this in the Telegram group and on our social networks.

- On which exchanges will the Crypton Network token be listed?

The Crypton Network token will be listed on the Pancake swap exchange in the future, if there is a listing on other exchanges, we will inform you about it on our social networks.

- How much will the Crypton Network token cost after listing?

The price of the Crypton Network token will be 0.005 USD for one Crypton token, but this price will rise when the token starts burning for each transaction.

Questions related to NFT

- How the launch of the NTF Market will affect the growth of the token.

The NFT Market is a platform where anyone can create their own NFT tokens and put them up for auctions. This mechanism will help influence the price of the Crypton Network token.

- Why can't I place my NTF tokens now?

Website is under construction. After the NFT Market platform is ready, we will announce this in our Telegram channel and in other social networks.

- How NFT Market will affect the cost token price?

Crypton Network will be the main trading token in the NFT market. And all internal transactions will occur only through our token. In each transaction, 2% of tokens will be burned in a dead wallet, which will reduce the number of tokens and affect the rise in the price of the token.

Social networks

- Why does Crypton Network only have a telegram channel and no telegram group?

Experience shows that over time, a lot of inappropriate spam appears in the Telegram group, and our team decided to create a Telegram channel where the main news part will be published.

- How can I contact technical support if I have a marketing proposal?

If you have a marketing proposal, you can write to us in Gmail and send all the data. If we find it necessary, our manager will contact you by telegram. Here is our official address support@crnet.click
